The Great Divorce

Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock.

The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock.

But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand.

The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash.

“If people want to learn to believe in God, they have to follow the Son of God incarnate and walk with him.”

“The concept of a situation in which faith is possible is only a description of the reality contained in the following two statements, both of which are equally true: only believers obey, and only the obedient believe.”
